

Who are they?

I am not sure when these photographs were taken, but I think that it was 1989(ish). I remember telling the students in the first picture to look busy and studious but look in the background!

The above photograph is in Lower School. I think that the students were First Year (Now Year 7) working with Mr Bryan.

In the following two pictures, the students are - I think - in the Lower School Resource Area. This was just a posh library but what a wonderful educational idea to build a school around such a centre.
